All these articles are written by our talented staff. If you have any comments or suggestions please email NHL Picks service@docsports.com the NHL is the least bet in the major American sports league in both volume per game and over the course of the season. And while this may not be good for the sports betting tips business, it's good for you, gambler. You see, the less you bet on a game, the less opinions come into the line, the less accurate it will be, and the less the line is likely to change from the NHL opener. It's the same reason hockey has lower limits compared to say, basketball, football and even baseball. The hockey line has not been hit and battered into shape. Sports books don't make as much money in NHL bets because the volume is low. It's actually quite possible that the house will lose money in many games in one night, unlike the NBA bets where it's almost impossible not to be profitable if the sportsbook is booking for a balanced action. However, sports books have to offer NHL. They can't skip one of the big U.S. leagues. Canada can invade Las Vegas! But, that means the opportunity for Doc's Sports to attack those raw lines and give it winning NHL plays! Free NHL Picks and Expert Predictions You can find free NHL selections across the Doc sports network, including this free NHL predictions page; on our NHL experts doc page; and on the Youtube channels of our expert NHL handicappers. Get your NHL picks today, and every day! Doc's offers NHL experts picks today and every day of the hockey season! In fact, there are nights when hockey is not the most exciting. In fact, there are many games that are not nationally televised. That's a big plus for puckheads who are in the game, have people in the game reporting back, or are in a league passing flow. To put it bluntly, the less interesting a game is for the general public, the more interesting the lines for the NHL handicaps at Doc Sports. At Doc we know they don't give away a hockey pick because some of our bettors are hockey fans. We give hockey selections because need to make money to our customers, and the NHL is one of the most lucrative sports to build your bankroll. So even if you don't like watching the NHL do you a favor and start betting with the help of Doc's NHL experts by your side today. Free NHL Money Line ɪmp;#x26amp; Puck Line Picks Unlike Football, most NHL gamblers aren't going to make their hockey selections against the spread. In fact, there is a chance to bet on the puck line and gain an advantage, but mainly we will be betting teams to win directly, also known as the money line. As with all money lines, Sportsbooks give each NHL team a return-to-investment payment. That means if you risk $100 on an underground dog you can see your NHL pick return a much larger $165. Of course it also means that betting on a heavy hockey favorite will bring a much smaller return than you risked. So at Doc we have to look at every play and ask ourselves, if we make this hockey bet 100 times, do we expect to go out way ahead? Many NHL pro handicappers try to find that a pick in a marquee game that people will buy. If they can find a game in big city teams, the audience will be bigger. This is selling and not how you become a long-term NHL winning gambler! If a handicapper of a Doc has reason to believe tampa bay is more than at least a better target, our free NHL selection against the puck line would be to take Tampa Bay -1.5+150. This is how all bets on the spread AKA puck line work. But again, at Doc's most of our NHL picks are against the money line in games with odds never exceeding -150 with our best plays. However, there may also be exceptional value in NHL betting totals. NHL Total Predictions The pace of the game, as well as which games have unique matches, is a key factor in challenging hockey games. When the pace and matchup formation is a particularly strong sign, you can dictate a selection at the plus/below. An NHL over/under pick is another way to refer to a prediction about an NHL game goal total. Total NHL lines are typically between 5 and 6.5 targets. This means that there are many pushed AKA ties with total NHL bets. The way to win total NHL bets is to get these picks at the best possible price. Similar to the line of execution of each of the elderly and minors have a variable price depending on the probabilities of each that occurs. You can also almost always anticipate the empty net goal, as teams will pull their goalkeeper the final two minutes of the game when they are below 1 or 2 goals that benefits the envelope in certain situations. Also when teams are tied late in the game they start playing for the point so you can expect them not to take too many chances that could also affect the total in closing matches. At Doc's we provide selections of NHL experts aimed at capitalizing on where there is a price advantage. We also offer total free hockey selections that are meant to help bettors with their handicapping hockey legs. NHL Parlay Picks Parlay picks are considered usually placed by football fans. Parlaying NBA games is often a sucker and done bet without getting good prices or the best of key numbers. Hockey parlays are perhaps the easiest to gain an advantage. It's up there with baseball and may even be better in terms of capitalizing on good picks, but more importantly, good prices. Let's say you strongly believe that a matchup will go a certain way. The game will not be played as the public expects because of the way a goalkeeper handles this team scoring threats! You can talk the underneath and the dog underground based on the perceived value. More importantly, if your sports book is priced in the puck line as well as the total, or even a puck line price in another game, the payment can make this type of game advantageous in the long run. At Doc's our experts will offer a free selection of hockey in rare cases. It is not common because we need to find value for our customers on both lines before these markets change. NHL Playoff Predictions Once the regular season is over the NHL tends to pick up a lot of square action, especially in the big markets. Playoff hockey is all about the heat of goals, as a tender hot goal can win a series for a mediocre team and that happens every year, so make sure you study on goals. Fans often drive up prices as their teams participate in the playoffs. Bettors have much more time to make their NHL playoff picks as teams travel to each other's arenas and rest between series. Making successful hockey playoff predictions is as much about when you bet as it is what you bet on. A series may not start for days. This means that an NHL money line will move especially as the public bets closer to the action. If we see value in a playoff prediction it will rely heavily on getting the line we're quoting in our NHL selection. Getting the best price on your hockey picks versus average price is the difference between having to hit 60% to win or being profitable hit as low as 50%. At Doc's we help you win, and win by betting smart.
